

The Path of the Circulatory System

Choosing from the following list, correctly fill in the flow chart of the circulatory system:

Lungs

Left atrium

Right ventricle

Left ventricle

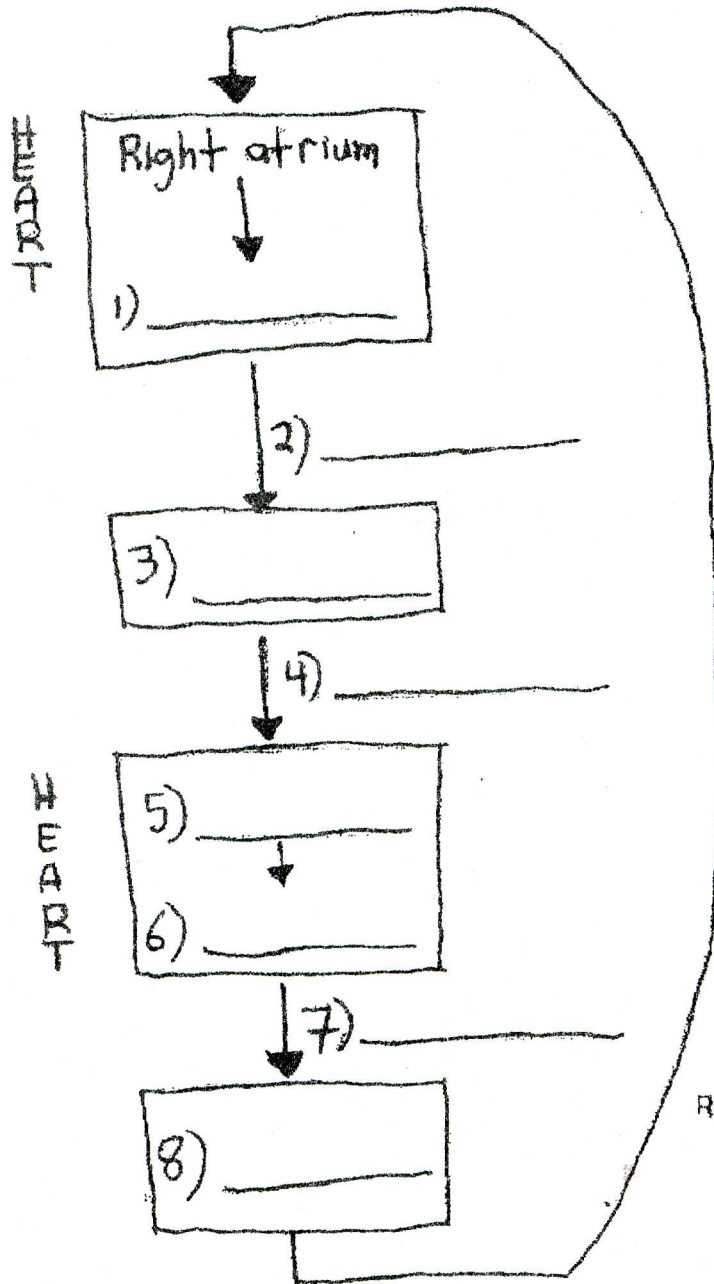

Veins

Pulmonary veins

Body (cells)

Pulmonary arteries

Arteries

Pulmonary arteries carry blood containing carbon dioxide from your heart to your lungs.

Pulmonary veins carry blood containing oxygen from your lungs to your heart.

